Saint John, the Apostle

of Prohibition and Co-advisor of the Democratic Party, Arrives Here This Morning.

Ex-Governor John P. St. John, of Kansas, came down from Albany this morning and registered at the Chemekete hotel. His presence here was not made known until about noon, and when it became public only a few of the proli-faith and some of the democratic brethren took interest enough in his movements to call on him. A CAPITAL JOURNAL reporter who called this afternoon at the Chemekete to see the famous apostle, was informed that he had gone out driving with Elder Webb. He caught him on the street a few minutes later, however, and was informed that having no engagements for a few days he came to Salem to "put in the time" and that he would remain here until Tuesday, when he goes to Silverton. This is not Mr. St. John's first visit to Oregon for he landed in Yreka in 1852 and came up to Southern Oregon and tramped over the mining region seeking for gold, where it could be pried out with a crowbar. In those days he camped in a tent and saw the country in its more primitive state. He expressed himself favorably impressed with what he has seen of Oregon, but says that the wonderful changes and improvements since his former visit make the country almost unrecognizable to him.

Be Excused.

The big steamer Multnomah arrived here about 7 o'clock last evening, having left Portland shortly after 9 o'clock. She found the river pretty shallow in places, but had no serious difficulty in making the trip up. A concert was given on board by the Second Regiment band, and the steamer was visited by hundreds of people last night. At 6:20 this morning about 300 excursionists were on board and the boat left on its three days trip. A lady who arrived at the wharf just as the boat was leaving the wharf narrowly escaped falling into the river, but was caught hold of by two strong men and pulled aboard. If the river continues to fall as rapidly the next two days as it has since Wednesday, the Multnomah will probably have some difficulty in making the trip back up the river, and the excursionists will be apt to have a more extended stay on the boat than they bargained for.

Sea Isotom.

F. Levy yesterday through Holmes & Hayden, his attorneys, instituted in the State circuit court for Marion county, an action against James M. Rickey to recover $1672 upon a promissory note dated January 29, 1888, with interest amounting to $372 and $200 attorneys fees, and for $900.84 for merchandise sold to plaintiff, and for $1497.25 money paid out for and loaned to plaintiff, less $914.75 paid upon account. Judgment is demanded for the total amount $3128.84 Sheriff Minto this morning attached all of Mr. Rickey's personal property to satisfy the claim.

Why Our Streets are Deserted

Jeff Scriber, who was out to Silverton a day or two ago, reports seeing teams in nearly every field along the road, engaged in putting in grain and plowing summer fallow. This will explain why our streets have worn a deserted look the past week. Farmers have been unusually busy this spring resowing fields frozen out last winter and attending to the regular spring work, and have no time to come to town. Tomorrow, with a pleasant, be a lively day as there will be a big crowd to see the horse show.

Small Fire.

The roof of the stone study kitchen addition to the Chemekete hotel caught fire about 12 o'clock today from sparks from the chimney. The flames were discovered before any damage was done and the fire was put out without an alarm being turned in.

TRROUBLE AT SILETZ RESERVATION.

The Indians Drive the Agent and a Lady Teacher off the Reservation.

From Yaquina particulars are obtained of a serious trouble which has arisen on the Silatz reservation near that place.

A short time ago a surveyor named Laekland was sent there by the government to do some surveying. He did his work and at the same time wooed and won the affections of a half-breed Indian maiden, with whom he ran away, going to Portland. In leaving the couple, after crossing the ferry, left the two horses they were riding on the ferry-boat and set it adrift. It floated down the river about six miles, and in getting it back one old Indian named Catfish was drowned. This, together with the manner in which Laekland had carried away the half-breed girl, made the Indians very angry. Laekland had boarded with the Indian agent, J. B. Lane, and they blamed him for the whole affair. Finally their wrath was nursed to such a degree that they gave Agent Lane peremptory notice to leave the reservation. To avoid trouble Mr. Lane left for Portland with the intent of returning to investigate the matter. The Indians also notified Miss Hattie Hansell, a highly respected young lady, who was engaged in teaching on the reservation, to leave, and yesterday she quit the reservation and started for her home in Portland.

It is stated that certain white men who were opposed to Mr. Lane as agent, have been assisting toward inciting the Indians to their present action.

Stayton Notes.

Fine weather at present.

They have baptized three into the Christian church here in the last week. Rev. A. B. Wade is still holding meetings.

There was a box social at the residence of Mr. Lee Brown on Thursday night of this week, proceeds to go to the M. E. minister. A large crowd was present and a general good time was had.

Since the fish law has expired every small boy and some that are not so small, are to be seen equipped with fishing rod and tackle wading their way to some limpid pool in quest of the speckled beauties with which our streams abound.

We noticed our enterprising postmaster out the other day on his new bicycle, he seemed to manage it admirably without being thrown, giving us the impression that he must have been practising in the silent hours of night when every one was wrapt in slumber so as to make a commendable first appearance.

M. QUAD.

Death of J. C. Joseph. J. C. Joseph, the well known contractor and stone-mason of this city, died at Corvallis at 2 o'clock this morning, and his remains were brought down to-day on the 10 o'clock train. Mr. Joseph went to Corvallis several days ago to commence work on his contract for putting in the foundation of the Benton county court house. Last Friday evening he was taken with a chill, which was followed by fever from which he died this morning. Mr. Joseph was an old and highly respected citizen of Salem, and the news of his sudden death will be heard with regret by all. The funeral will probably take place from his late residence to-morrow.

OAKLAND NOTES.

The county convention of the prohibition party met at Roseburg yesterday at 10 a.m. and organized by electing B. F. Ramp, formerly of Marion county chairman, and C. A. Schlorde, formerly of Salem, secretary. There were seventy-four delegates present and harmony and enthusiasm prevailed. A full county ticket was nominated, the ticket is recognized by all as being an exceptionally strong one, and the old parties will have to go very cautiously in making their selections if they do not want at least a portion of the ticket nominated yesterday.

In the afternoon Gov. John P. St. John addressed about one thousand people in the court house yard. Gov. St. John more than satisfied the prohibitionists and wonderfully disappointed those who were wont to abuse him. At night Prof. Miller, the nominee for congress, and St. John addressed about four hundred people in the court house.

It is generally conceded by careful observers that the speeches and work of yesterday, will make many votes for the prohibition party at the coming June election. The democratic party will not hold its county convention in this county until the 16th of May, and the republican party will hold its convention on the 17th of May.

Elder T. F. Campbell, of the Christian church, is holding a successful religious meeting at this place. Mr. Campbell is a logical reasoner and one of the best Bible teachers on the coast, and many persons are being brought to make the good confession under his teachings. On Sunday afternoon he baptized six and on Tuesday nine more. He will organize a church organization at the close of the meeting.

The sore throat scourge, with which our people have been afflicted for nearly six months, has spent its force and the people rejoice on account thereof.

The Umpqua Herald, owned by Fisher Bros. has been removed to Roseburg, and it is understood will soon pass into the management of the prohibitionists of this county.

OAKLAND, OR, April 11. S.

The Whole Vital Machinery

Depends for the fuel, which is the origin of its propulsive force, upon the stomach. In that hidden abode the food undergoes the chemical changes which transmute it into blood, from which the system draws the material that reimburses it for its daily losses of tissue. These, of course, are greatly augmented in disease. If the stomach, therefore, is weakened or disordered, the system is deprived of sustenance. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters can be relied upon to facilitate and renew digestion when that function has been interrupted by weakness of the stomach. Biliousness, or a diversion of the bile from its proper channel, which causes constipation, is also remedied by it. Heartburn, wind on the stomach, sick headache, fur upon the tongue, and other symptoms of stomach and liver disorder, it speedily removes. Malaria complaints of every sort, kidney and bladder troubles, constipation, rheumatism and neuralgia yield when it is used regularly and persistently.
